Leases confuse Aztec renters

Students face possible lawsuits over rent

CRYSTAL PHILPOTT
Staff writer

Steve Davis, director of student legal services, has been advising students involved with a possible lawsuit with Aztec Investments not to pay rent until they that Aztec says they owe.

The amount in question involves a one and a half month period which students claim they paid prior to moving in in August.

The lease shows that the term is from Aug. 23, 1986, to May 10, 1987. A nine and a half month term is inconsistent with the terms of the lease," Davis said.

Davis said the students stopped paying their rent in March because they said they paid the rent for a full month and half of May at the time they leased the apartment in August.

While the lease is for the term Aug. 23 to May 10, 1987, students assumed the extra month and a half of rent they paid in August would be credited to their lease at the end of their lease period.

Their lease said they were leasing for eight months. If the students pay for the month and a half of rent, they will end up paying for nine and a half months rent, Davis said.

They (Aztec officials) neglected to put the total amount of rent students would have to pay on the lease," Davis said, adding that a total on the lease would have cleared up the confusion.

Robert Gallagher, one tenant who has been threatened by Aztec Investments with a lawsuit if he does not pay the month and a half of rent, said, "I'm not going to pay. We have been advised by our lawyer (Davis) not to pay it."

Glenn Cygan, another Aztec tenant, said, "They sent us these letters the week before finals. We (Cygan's roommates) just got to talking about it. 'Hey did you guys get this letter? I got one, too.' 'All of us are unrelated. I never knew these guys were this. We just all happen to have the same problem,'" Cygan said.

Both Gallagher and Cygan, along with two other tenants, Mike Milosovic and Jim Navadonskis, said that after they got the letter they went to talk to Davis.

"Steve Davis told us we should just wait and let him (Aztec officials) sue us. He says we have a good case," Cygan said.

Evelyn Warner, general manager of Aztec Investments, refused to discuss details about particular cases, but said, "It's because they haven't fulfilled the terms of their lease (that the students are being threatened with a lawsuit).

"If there's a discrepancy, then I suggest these students come in and see me. I think there's just a misunderstanding—anyone who feels like that. If you tell them to come see me, I'm sure we can clear up the misunderstanding," Warner said.

Davis said, however, that he has sent Aztec Investments two letters, but received no response.

"The only contact I ever got was that their lawyer contacted me. The only thing he said was that there was going to be legal actions taken," Davis said.

Aztec Investments is being represented by John P. Ewart of Craig & Craig Attorneys at Law, 1807 Broadway Ave., Mattoon. Ewart could not be reached for comment Tuesday.

"The landlord has caused a lot of confusion by not being clear in the beginning. It just doesn't seem to me that Aztec is trying to be fair about this," Davis said.

Warner, however, said that Aztec tenants would only be charged for the period stated in the lease—from Aug. 23 to May 10.

Warner said anyone who faced a lawsuit was in that position because they did not meet the terms of the lease.

But Davis said, "That's their opinion. It won't be the lease. It will be their interpretation of the lease."

Davis said the whole issue with the lease was just a difference of interpretation between the involved parties.

Eastern graduate to get national Peace Corps award

KIM MIKUS
Staff writer

Eastern graduate Rex Rund will receive the John F. Kennedy Peace Corps Volunteer of the Year award from Vice President George Bush Wednesday.

Rund said he applied for the Peace Corps before graduating from Eastern in 1984. "I was inspired by my older brother who was a Peace Corps volunteer in Ecuador," he said.

The Peace Corps is a government agency of the United States established in 1961 by Kennedy to provide volunteers with teaching skills to assist people of undeveloped areas abroad.

Rund, who has been serving as a volunteer in Haiti, said there are 62 countries that have Peace Corps. Each country selected one person for the members of the Washington Peace Corps staff to make selections for the award.

Rex Rund

"It takes a highly motivated person to get this award," said Rund.

He added that the Peace Corps is divided into three regions. The inter-America region includes Central and South America and the Caribbean. The second region includes Africa and the third includes North Africa, Asia Pacific and the Near East.

"One person from each of these three regions is given a ceremony at 9:45 Wednesday at the White House," Rund said, adding that it is quite an honor to receive the award.

Rund graduated from Eastern with a bachelor's degree in voice. In 1985, he received his master's degree in choral conduction.

Rund said after he finished his master's he said to himself, "If I ever am going to do anything like this, now is the time to do it."

He has now been living in Haiti for 2 years, working as an agricultural teacher and veterinarian for pigs on his pig farm.

Making the decision to go to Haiti has given "me the opportunity to live with the people of another country," he said, adding that it is much different to live with them than it is to just visit them.

Rund said he lives in a small town about 20 miles from the capital of Port-au-Prince where Creole, a derivative of the French language is spoken.

He described living in this town as a "different world from the United States." The town has no electricity or water. "I live in the middle of a sugar cane area and very much poverty."

"I'm well off though," said Rund, adding that he lives in a two-room house. Most people live in small cement huts with tin roofs, he added.

Rund said his future plans include "finishing the Peace Corps in December, getting married in the spring, and then I want to get back to conducting."

"I recommend the Peace Corps experience to Eastern students," said Rund. The experience is "priceless and very important in getting to know other cultures."

Attendance up by 5 percent at Celebration Weekend

AMY ZURAWSKI
Staff writer

Attendance numbers for Celebration: A Festival of the Arts 1987 were found to be up by about 5 percent this year according to a survey conducted by an Eastern sociology class.

Sociology instructor Ron Wohlstein said surveying completed by the 30 members of his collective behavior class showed about 13,700 people attended Celebration events Saturday and Sunday.

Although the numbers do not yet include an estimate of Friday's attendance, Wohlstein said he believes the figures are accurate.

"Students were posted at all possible entrances to the activities and they counted 18,400 people," he said. "After a percentage adjustment for the number of people who were visiting for the second time, we can say about 13,700 people attended."

During Saturday and Sunday, class members not only counted people entering the event, but also surveyed every fifth individual for two hours each day to learn why they were attending, how they found out about the event, and how far they traveled to get to Charleston.

Wohlstein said the data from the rest of the survey should be available in several weeks after the information is compiled.

In addition, Wohlstein said photographs were taken every hour during the three-day festival that will produce information about the crowd and how they reacted to certain events.

"We try to drum up all the information we can so we can produce more and more data that will make the festival better in future years," he added.

Missing girl found on interstate

SALEM—A 16-year-old girl abducted last week in Missouri was found Tuesday morning walking along an interstate highway in Illinois, and her father says she considers herself "lucky to be alive."

Kellie Ann Klein of Eureka, Mo., walked up to a state police car parked bedside Interstate 57 three miles from the Southern Illinois town of Salem and introduced herself to the trooper inside, nearly five days after she was abducted during a robbery at a movie theater where she worked.

She was immediately taken to Salem Township Hospital, where she was listed in good condition.

"I was surprised she was found," said Ken Klein, Kellie's father at the hospital.

"After four days, you're up, you're down. Your faith is always there. But I just didn't know what to expect," said Klein after he and his wife were flown by helicopter to the hospital by St. Louis County police.

Jim Bakker threatens PTL Board

COLUMBIA, S.C. (AP)—Two members of the new board of the PTL ministry empire said Monday that its founder, the Rev. Jim Bakker, should not be allowed to return in spite of his threat of a "holy war" to regain it.

And the Rev. Bailey E. Smith said the board's chairman, Rev. Jerry Falwell, is considering resigning at Tuesday's meeting in Fort Mill and that if he does the rest of the board also might step down.

The Baptist evangelists from Oklahoma said his ministry and Falwell's have been hurt financially because of their connection with the scandal-ridden PTL.

Smith said from First Baptist Church in Del City, Okla., that he can't say exactly how much donations have decreased because of the PTL scandal and his connection to it, but Falwell has said he has lost $2 million.

Falwell, in an interview Monday on "The 700 Club" on the Christian Broadcasting Network, said Bakker wrote him last week asking to return to the ministry, which he resigned and turned over to Falwell after admitting to a sexual encounter with a church secretary seven years ago.

"I recieved a wire, a telex, from him last week. In it, he implied that I made some kind of deal with him, which I did not, to give it back to him . . . and implying that if I don't do it, there'll be a holy war," Falwell said.

A woman who answered the phone Monday at Bakker's house in Palm Springs, Calif., said "he's not available."

Falwell and Smith said Bakker should not be allowed to return and both predicted PTL will fold unless its credibility is restored.

The new board meets Tuesday at PTL's Heritage USA, the evangelical empire that showed a $129 million profit last year with its cable television network, amusement park, shopping center and hotels.

Six interviews scheduled for college dean

By AMY CARR
Administration editor

The search for a new dean for Eastern's college of health, physical education and recreation has been narrowed down to six candidates.

The candidates are scheduled for interviews during various times throughout the next two weeks.

The final candidates are Clint Bruess, professor and chair of the department of health and physical education at the University of Alabama; William Buckellew, professor and acting dean of the college of health and physical education and recreation at Eastern.

Other candidates include William Considine, professor and chair of the department of physical education and health fitness at Springfield College, Mass.; Susann Doody, associate professor and coordinator of physical education, University of Northern Iowa.

Also, John Merriman, professor and head of the department of health, physical education and athletics at Valdosta State College, Ga.; and Carol Pyles, professor and dean of the college of special arts and sciences at Central State University, Edmond, Okla. have applied for the position.

Buckellew, who was interviewed Monday, has held various positions at Eastern including coordinator of graduate studies and department chair for the college HPER. He has also been the director of the laboratory school physical education program and coordinator of student teachers.

Bruess, who will be interviewed Wednesday, has also served as director of the school health education project for the National Center for Health Education at San Francisco, and professor and chair for the department of health science at Towson State University, MD.

Doody, who will be interviewed May 1, has held the positions of assistant professor and graduate coordinator at the University of Northern Iowa, Cedar Falls, and as an instructor at the University of Wisconsin at Madison.

Merriman, who will be interviewed May 4, has held the position of academic head and athletic director for the division of health, physical education, recreation and athletics at Wayne State College, Wayne, Neb.

Pyles, who will be interviewed May 6, has also held positions as chair of sales, marketing and management at Houston Community College; officer of health careers at Houston Community College and chair of health careers at Fairmont State College, W. Va.

Considine, the final candidate, will be interviewed May 8. He has held positions that include: assistant professor for the department of physical education at the University of Illinois; lecturer for the department of P.E. at Indiana University; and teacher/coach at Carpentersville.

Faculty Senate elects chairs for upcoming terms of office

By JEFF BRITT
Senior reporter

The Faculty Senate Tuesday elected John North, secondary education and foundations chair, as its 1987-88 chair and summer vice chair.

The senate also elected Bill Heyduck as fall vice chair and Gary Foster as secretary.

Janet Norberg, who currently serves as vice chair, will be chair for the summer.

North said he would like the senate to be representative of the university. "I think it's important for the Faculty Senate to represent the entire university point of view," he said.

He stressed that he didn't want the senate to be representative of only the faculty. "In addition to the entire university point of view, I would encourage total university participation," North said.

He said because "issues have a way of evolving" and his term as chair is "too far in the future," he has set no definite goals for the senate.

He added that the senate should be selective in what issues it considers. "I think we have to be active, but active with some common sense. I hope the senate will have a level-headed approach to the issues that come to it."

North believes the senate will be involved in helping Robert Kindrick, the recently appointed vice president for academic affairs, get familiarized with the campus.

North also said he would like to work with President Stanley Rives.

Vice chair elect Bill Heyduck said because his election was sudden and unprecedented, he has devised no goals. "This is all a surprise. I have nothing in mind," he said.

"Probably in the position I'm in, it's to work with the chair of the senate and help him in any way I can," Heyduck said.

As secretary, "you take (Faculty Senate) minutes and that's about it," Foster said.

"I guess in some instances, I separate the office of secretary from that of senator." As senator, Foster said he speaks out on more issues.

"I think the goals are straightforward. Being secretary to the Faculty Senate is pretty much task-oriented," Foster said.

He said the secretary's job involves; "Paying attention to accuracy in the minutes."

In other business, Faculty Senate Chair Mary Wohlrabe said she spoke to Student Body President Mike Madigan regarding a faculty code of ethics. "He (Madigan) did think that the Student Senate might be interested in it (code of ethics)," she said.

"I said since it's in such a preliminary stage, if he wants to give input, that's fine," Wohlrabe said.

Math diagnostic center offering learning assistance

Students with weak mathematics background may get a helping hand with tutoring

(Editor's note: This is the second article in a four-part series dealing with assistance services on campus.)

By KRIS KRAAI
Staff writer

Eastern's Math Diagnostic Center provides an opportunity to gain college math training to students who may have missed that training in high school.

The center was developed in the fall of 1985 by Eastern math instructor Haldon Anderson.

Anderson said he recognized the need for such a center when students had trouble passing Math 1290, a previously offered introductory algebra course.

Anderson said the problem may have resulted from limited placement testing at Eastern and a state law requiring only one year of math in high school.

Since 1985, placement testing has expanded to include all incoming freshmen who take one of three placement tests depending on their major.

The students are then placed in the Math Diagnostic Center, Math 1270, a non-credit course, or Math 1271, depending on their score.

Those students placed in the diagnostic center are taught by staff members, graduate assistants, temporary faculty and faculty assistants. Each of the assistants has been specially trained to work individually with students.

"People aren't in the diagnostic center because they're dumb," said Anderson. "They just haven't had enough math, or their (math) skills are rusty."

About 100 students per semester take advantage of the math center. Of those, 75 percent tested into Math 1270 and 14 percent into Math 1271.

Anderson is "very pleased" with the results of the center and said that the center is still revising its materials.

Anderson is also in charge of Eastern's math tutorial service. Here students can receive help from undergraduate students.

The tutors keep a record of students who have come in for help. The list is then given to Anderson so he can see how often the service is utilized.

No appointment is necessary and Ken Kubycheck, a math tutor, said he knows many students "would be flunking their math classes" without the tutoring.

The busiest time of the year for the tutoring center is during midterms and finals, Kubycheck said.

"Don't wait" to get help—go now, Kubycheck said. The tutoring center's hours are from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. in Old Main and 7 p.m. to 10 p.m. in Coleman Hall.

Thursday's article will discuss Eastern's Writing Center.

Newcomers' weekend plan viable solution

Even though Eastern is a relatively small university, for many incoming freshmen being turned loose among nearly 10,000 others can seem awfully intimidating. Learning to work around financial aid regulations or manage time effectively can be a headache. Realizing this, the Student Senate has been working on enacting a headache remedy.

During the past six weeks it commissioned several members to plan and promote an orientation weekend for as many as 300 members of next year's freshmen class. Hopefully, the program will quickly expand to include transfer students.

Student Senator Denise Wasetis, who spearheaded the freshman camp, has been rapidly gaining the support of individuals and organizations needed to make this plan take off.

She has lined up Eastern President Stanley Rives and representatives from Eastern's social, athletic and academic organizations to introduce themselves at the three-day retreat scheduled for the first weekend of the fall semester.

Unaware of much about college life, next year's freshmen have the opportunity to learn from the speakers ways they can cut through the red tape of financial aid, scholarships and student legal services. The freshman camp will also feature games, a dance, a bonfire and live entertainment designed to encourage the newcomers to mingle with other freshmen as well as instructors and administrators.

Also, speakers from extracurricular organizations will explain how freshmen might get involved with intramurals, fraternities and sororities, student government or other university-related activities. However, participating groups need to remember the freshman retreat shouldn't be mistaken for a rush party.

Even though the orientation camp idea didn't originate from Eastern's Student Senate—Texas A & M University has been doing it for years—this is still a helpful plan that will make adjusting to Eastern a bit less startling for some new arrivals.

Letter policy

The Daily Eastern News encourages letters to the editor from any reader.

Answering those stupid questions

Those of you that are graduating have probably been approached at least half a billion times about what you plan to do after shaking a few of the campus dignitaries' hands next week.

The questions usually come from your relatives—more often than not a distant relative. They go something like this, "So, you're finally graduating? (Relatives never understand that no one finishes college in four years.) What are you going to do with your life?"

A little more subtle, yet still probing, questions will come from your friends. "So, um, like, what are you gonna do next year?" Notice they don't ask you if you have a job yet.

Just because people give you a Cross pen and pencil set and perhaps a card, they think you owe them an explanation about your plans for the future, how you plan on repaying your loans and why it took you seven and a half years to graduate.

You don't have to answer any of these questions. However, if you do, go for shock value. Tell them that after three extensive interviews you think you have lined up a job (with a future) cleaning lettuce at (insert your favorite fast food restaurant here).

However, annoying questions are not limited to those that are graduating. Those that aren't graduating are also pelted with the irritating inquiries. "Do you graduate this year?" they'll ask and woe be unto you if you're not. "So what are you going to do all summer? Do you have a job lined up or what?"

Again, don't answer. Rather, explain that you can't possibly think about venturing into the real world because you simply aren't ready.

"How could you possibly know that?" they will ask. "Simple," you will answer as you give them the following test to decide if they are ready for the real world.

Jean
Wright

What constitutes a well-balanced meal?

- One that contains a member of all four food groups.
- One that is proportional in its amount of liquids to solids.
- One that sits evenly on the table without sliding off the plate.

What is the true use for white flouride toothpaste?

- To prevent cavities.
- To cover small holes in the plaster.
- To be given out as after-dinner mints after it has dried chunk-like in the sink.

What do you do when you run out of money?

- Go out and get a job to earn money on your own.
- Take out an emergency loan.
- Call your parents and weep openly about how you haven't eaten in months and how every utility known to man has been turned off in your apartment.

When does summer vacation start?

- There is no such thing as summer vacation. The only vacation you get is the time your employer grants you after you have worked at a company for a specified amount of time.
- The approximate three months when there is lapse between spring and fall semesters.
- Whenever it gets warm enough to open the windows until the time when snow boots have to be worn.

The correct answer to all of the questions was C. However, those people will insist incessantly that the correct answer was A. These people have obviously never been to college and therefore will never be ready for the real world.

You, on the other hand, have the knowledge and the expertise and know what to do with white flouride toothpaste. You will be ready—someday.

U2 record review lacked intelligence

Editor:

I realize that The Daily Eastern News is not exactly The Rolling Stone, but I would think that any writer on a staff could write a decent record review. I guess I expected too much. The review of U2's The Joshua Tree was totally incompetent.

First of all, I can't believe that anyone would seriously compare Bono, the lead vocalist, to Rick Springfield. That comparison just shows the writer's obvious lack of musical taste and intelligence.

She got so many facts wrong in her article that I seriously doubt that she even listened to the album that she was supposedly reviewing. She had a definite problem getting the lyrics straight. I'd like to suggest that the next time she writes a record review that she should at least glance at the lyric sheet that comes with every record. Please, in the future, if you are going to print the words to a song, at least print the right ones.

She was also totally wrong when she called the song "Pride (In the Name of Love)" a pro-revolutionist song. It is a song about Martin Luther King Jr. It is a song that promotes peace and all the ideals that Martin Luther King Jr. fought and died for. Martin Luther King Jr. wanted peace in the world, not revolution.

There are a lot of other things that I could say, these aren't her only mistakes; they are just the biggest ones. The total ignorance that Diana Winson has about U2 is her own problem, but not when forced it on the rest of us through her incompetent record review.

In the future I hope that she will at least listen and even try to understand the group that she is reviewing. If she is incapable of this then she should just stick to reviewing people who she can understand like Rick Springfield and maybe she can work her way up to The Bay City Rollers.

Freshman Connie Burns and freshman German Velez demonstrate how couples living together behave in the "boarding house" style relationship, in which two people live together, but are strangers to each other, during a life skills seminar Tuesday afternoon in the Oakland Room in the Union Addition.

Area attorney discusses pitfalls of cohabitation

By JUDY WEIDMAN
Activities editor

A decision to live with a person of the opposite sex should not be made without careful considerations as to what would happen if the relationship dissolves, an area attorney said Tuesday.

At the final Life Skills Seminar, Charleston attorney Rebecca Block said couples should plan at the outset of a relationship for a smooth disillusion because not all relationships will last.

"The court will not recognize a joint effort of partnership," Block said.

Block recommended separate checking accounts. She also said live-ins planning on buying property should file for "Tenants in Common," which is a partnership contract.

In addition, Block suggested that the couple should keep records who purchased appliances and the owner of assets so the couple could divide them easily if the relationship fails.

Block said state courts try to stay away from property lawsuits filed by unmarried couples, because Illinois laws support the institution of marriage.

Fornication, having sexual intercourse with someone out of wedlock, is a misdemeanor in Illinois and is punishable with up to one year in jail and a $1,000 fine, Block said.

The seminar, sponsored by Eastern's Counseling Center, also featured counselor Marjorie Hanft-Martone. Hanft-Martone said couples should ask themselves various questions before living together. Some of these questions include whether or not marriage is a goal and what the couple expects to find out about each other.

She also had two volunteers from the audience act out a live-in couple during relationship troubles.

Freshman German Velez and sophomore Connie Burns were asked to portray several possible relationship scenarios.

First they were positioned as a couple too dependant on each other and were told to form a bridge.

They also placed their arms around each other signifying a smothered relationship. Also, one of the couple knelt down before the other signifying a "placed on a pedestal" type of relationship. And finally the couple stood back to back with their arms intertwined in an effort to signify a "boarding house" relationship.

Enrollment increased

By MARIE GROVES
Staff writer

Although summer vacation will begin soon for many students, other students will spend their vacation at Eastern enrolled in summer school.

Although the actual number of students enrolled in summer school has not yet been calculated, Charles Switzer, director of summer school, predicts an increase in the total number of students enrolled in summer school.

At this time last year, 2,122 students had pre-enrolled for summer school, Switzer said. But this beginning total was less than 60 percent of the final enrollment, which increased to 3,533 students by the end of the summer.

Switzer said last summer's enrollment was the first decline the university's summer program had seen in five years. He anticipates figures will improve greatly this summer.

This year's pre-enrollment figures alone show an improvement over last year. Switzer said 2,288 students have pre-registered to date, marking a 7.8 percent increase over last year.

"That is a positive sign," Switzer said of the increase.

Switzer said, "It's hard to predict what our final enrollment will be" due to add/drops and part-time students who enroll for workshops by mail.

The exact figures for summer enrollment will not be available until the end of June, Switzer said.

Although the decline in availability of summer jobs and economic factors have caused competition for summer school enrollment throughout the state, Switzer said enrollment is expected to increase 40 percent over the pre-enrollment total.

Freshmen getting priority for upcoming fall classes

By JOHN NORTON
Staff writer

During the upcoming fall registration, freshmen may get priority over sophomores when signing up for some elective and humanities courses, said Academic Adviser Cal Campbell.

Campbell said freshmen may get priority when registering, although no firm decision has been made by administration officials.

Mike Taylor, assistant director of registration, said the reason for the priority change is an effort to open up more seats for freshman-level courses.

Another reason for the proposed change, Taylor said, is to further enhance Eastern's image for incoming freshmen.

The bad publicity Eastern receives when classes are full would be eliminated, Taylor added.

He said the matter has only been informally discussed.

Sophomore and other upperclassmen would still have priority in other courses, Taylor said. The priority change in electives and humanities would also reduce problems the university has associated with freshman add/drops.

If the scheduling change does take affect, Campbell said sophomores will not be affected unless they enroll in freshman-level courses in humanities or electives.

A final decision over the priority change should be made sometime between now and when pre-registration ends, Taylor said.

Faculty award winners honored with reception for excellence

By KIM MIKUS
Staff writer

A reception was given Monday at President Stanley Rives' residence for 23 Eastern instructors who won the 1987 Faculty Excellence Award.

The instructors presented with the award are: Randolph Aldinger, physics; Dewey Amos, geology/geography; Martha Brown, home economics; Joseph Connelly, political science; John Ebinger, botany and Duane Elbert, history.

Mathematic instructors winning the award are Haldon Anderson, Eugene Dolson and Suhrit Dey.

English instructors Deborah Clarke, Bruce Guernsey, John Guzowski, John Kilgore and David Radavich were also given the award.

Management/marketing instructors given the award are Bert Holley and Yunus Kathawala.

Chemistry instructors Howard Black and Ellen Keiter also received the award.

Psychology instructors John Best and William Kirk along with Robert Saltmarsh, received the award.

Other instructors receiving the award are Walter Sorge and Marilyn Wilkins.

Norma Winkleblack, administration assistant to Rives, said that the award winners were decided upon by a committee that considered and reviewed all of the applications.

She noted that the recommendations are then sent to Rives who approves the committee decision.

City hears concerns

By STUART TART
Staff writer

The Charleston City Council meeting became a forum for resident concerns Tuesday in front of a standing room only audience.

One resident voiced concern over the placement of a home for the developmentally disabled in her neighborhood, while another protested remote controls being issued by the city's cable television company.

Susan Richardson, 1906 20th St., repeated her appeal against the proposed Gaylord Tull House, a home for the mentally disabled to be built on South 18th St. Richardson said she would like to see if a city ordinance could be changed to restrict the further development of property in the neighborhood into residential care facilities.

"We would like to appeal to the council to change the ordinance for future development to restrict the number of group residential care facilities in any one neighborhood," she said in a prepared statement.

Although council members said they could not limit the number of any type of facility that could locate in one area, Public Property Commissioner Richard Corbin suggested the city provide for informing residents of zoning changes like the one that allowed the Tull home to be built at the proposed site.

"Maybe we ought to have an ordinance that people owning adjacent property be notified of a zoning change," he said.

In another complaint, Martha McMahon, 1702 Meadowlake Dr.,

FRANK POLICH / Staff photographer

Susan Richardson reads a letter written by her and her husband, protesting the proposed Gaylord Tull House.

protested a Liberty Cable TV requirement that subscribers rent a remote control box from the company.

"They have told me that I can no longer utilize my remote control but must pay them an additional $3 per month and use theirs," she said.

Council members said they will hold a forum for city resident concerns in late May.

Boards' seating open

Students interested in obtaining a seat on either Eastern's Apportionment Board or the Judicial Board may fill out an application in the student government office on the Union's second floor.

Student Body President Michael Madigan said there are four available seats on the AB and all eight seats are available on the Judicial Board.

The applications will be reviewed by Madigan and Terese Papa, Student Senate vice president. The interviews will be conducted by a senate legislative leadership committee.

A two-thirds vote of Student Senate is needed in order for a student to be appointed after the legislative leadership committee gives its approval.

Any student who is full-time or will be full-time in the fall semester, has a grade point average of 2.0, and is in good academic standing with the university is encouraged to apply for a board position, Madigan said.

Although there is no deadline for the applications, Madigan said the sooner the applications are in the better. "Consideration for the appointments will be on a first come first serve basis," he added.

Senate to choose speaker

By DONELLE PARDEE
Government editor

The Student Senate will vote to choose a summer and fall senate speaker at its last meeting of the semester 7 p.m. Wednesday in the Union addition Arcola-Tuscola Room.

The two candidates for the fall speaker are current Senate Speaker Tim Taylor and Senator Denise Wasetis. Taylor said he did not know who is being considered for the summer position.

Student Body President Michael Madigan will officiate the meeting until the new senate speaker is announced, Taylor said.

The candidates for senate speaker will deliver a statement before the senate.

Other business includes the announcement of the winner of the Senator of the Semester and the Senator of the Year awards. Nominations for the awards were submitted at the April 22 meeting.

The senators nominated for Senator of the Semester are Colleen Murphy, Susan Pennington, John Barrett, Krista Leahy and Trisha Nusbaum.

Pennington and Leahy were nominated for Senator of the Year.

The senate will also discuss a resolution submitted by Board of Governors Representative Mike Ashack, Taylor said, adding that the resolution, if passed, would make May 4-10 Quincy Doudna Week at Eastern.

The senate will also vote on a bylaw change. The change will affect senators and the amount of unexcused absences from senate meetings.

Taylor said the senate will also approving Director of Student Activities Anita Craig as the student government adviser. The senate will also discuss approving money for an Organization Day ad and printing 3,000 flyers.

In addition the senators will approve the resignation of Ron Fedorchek. Fedorchek is transferring to University of Illinois, Taylor said.

This Week In The Video Lounge:

This is Alfred Hitchcock week in the Video Lounge:

Our day starts with Vertigo at 10:00. Vertigo is said to be Hitchcock's most obsessive film. In this bizarre and haunting film, James Stuart must overcome vertigo and his desire for Kim Novak. This is followed by another Hitchcock classic, Family Plot, starting at 1:05. This was the final and best Hitchcock film. The movie is unpredictable and displays his use of the phenomenon of coincidence. If you can't come and see Family Plot during the day, come to the Video Lounge at 7 p.m. tonight.

Outstanding Senior of the Year announced

By ERIC WEDEKING
Campus editor

A Union Board committee announced that former Student Senate speaker Joe O'Mera was selected as Outstanding Senior of the Year.

The UB committee screened 13 nominations, submitted from faculty and campus organizations, before deciding on O'Mera Monday. O'Mera, current chair of the senate fundraising committee, was nominated by the Student Senate.

O'Mera, a 22-year-old Des Plaines native, will graduate with a finance major with an economics minor. O'Mera said he was "very honored to win (the award). I'm just glad I was lucky enough (to be chosen)."

Serving as a non-voting chair of the selection committee, Anita Craig, director of student activities, said O'Mera was chosen as Outstanding Senior of the Year based upon several criteria.

Some of these criteria included:

"participating in significant campus activities, academic achievement, holding a position of honor, participating in community related events, and was employed while a student on campus," Craig said.

"Joe (O'Mera) was selected for his experience in many facets of the university (including) his good grade point average, and the fact he worked his way through school," Craig said.

Craig said O'Mera was chosen after the search committee examined the applications and conducted six interviews, before eventually narrowing down the candidates to three graduating students.

The two other finalists for the award were Ann Hasara and Kent Rodgers. Hasara, a marketing major from Springfield, who was nominated by the Women of Delta Zeta. And Kent Rodgers, an accounting major from Mahomet, who was nominated by Eastern accounting instructor Robert Sharp.

Craig said an award banquet would be given for O'Mera, Hasara and Rodgers Saturday. All three will receive plaques and O'Mera's name will be inscribed on a plaque that will be displayed in the Union Walkway.

O'Mera said he planned to "get a job as a political lobbyist" over the summer and noted he would be attending summer school at Eastern.

After the summer, O'Mera said, "It's off to the real world after that."

O'Mera served as a senator on the student senate from January 1985 until December 1986. In his last two terms on the senate, O'Mera officiated student government meetings as senate speaker.

Although O'Mera is not officially involved in student government, he was appointed as senate fundraising chair for the "Make Room for Art" program.

O'Mera said he still works at Booth Library and is involved in a couple of fundraising projects.

Motown, blues in Subway

By TINA POSZICH
Staff writer

Rick Kelley, described by some as "one man with the talents of many," will perform his solo music act at 8 p.m. Thursday at the last Subway event of the year.

Don J. Pokorny, Kelley's agent, said the act contains a variety of music. "He (Kelley) plays some Motown, blues and some original music," Pokorny said.

Subway Coordinator Gina Moon said, "A lot of his music is from 'The Big Chill' and old Motown classics."

Moon, a sophomore, said admission for Kelley's first Eastern performance is 50 cents.

Moon said Kelley performs his own version of music geared toward college students. She noted that Kelley calls the tunes his "comedy music."

Kelley is a "one man band show" because he adds such variety to the show with his versatility, Moon said.

Besides singing, Pokorny said that Kelley "utilizes a lot of keyboards and drum machines."

Originally from Michigan, Kelley is currently on a 75-city tour of the United States to promote his first album "Top Priority," Moon said.

Kelley, a 12-year veteran of performing, has toured the college circuit for about three years, Pokorny said.

Orchestra will perform

By SUE LEONE
Staff writer

The final concert of the 1986-87 season for Eastern's Community Orchestra will be presented at 7:30 p.m. Thursday in the Dvorak Concert Hall.

During the concert members of Eastern's Theater Opera Workshop will perform opera scenes.

Under the direction of Jerry Daniels, the group will perform the final trio from Act I of the Freischutz by Carl Maria von Weber. Singers will include sophomore Kim Peterson; graduate student Elizabeth Welsh, soprano; and senior Brian Downen, tenor.

Following this performance will be the final duet from Richard Strauss' Rosenkavalier with sopranos Jeannie Weinland, a graduate student, and Jenna Kyle, a senior.

The first half of the program will close with the Smugglers Quintet from "Carman" by Bizet, featuring vocalists Jeannie Weinland and junior Gina Brown, as sopranos. Sophomore Michael Gibson, and senior Derek Alexander will sing tenor.

Panthers fall twice to Ball State on the road

writer

Eastern's softball team lost its third game in three to Ball State Tuesday, falling twice to the Cardinals in Muncie, Ind. by identical 3-2 scores.

The Panthers, who are 20-17-1 on the season, lost Ball State Saturday in the Northern Illinois tournament by a 1-0 score.

Ball State had already scored three runs in the third inning off losing pitcher Zam Mogill before Eastern put a run on the board.

Centerfielder Angel Lendvay singled to lead off the fourth inning, and advanced to second on a groundout by catcher Connie Hamers.

Lendvay scored when a passed ball rolled into a gap and she was awarded homeplate as a result of the ball going out of play.

The Panthers had the bases loaded in the sixth with nobody out, but only managed to score one run when pinch hitter Cindy Streid walked to force home shortstop Mary Jo McCarthy from third base.

Eastern committed three errors in the game, which did not help the cause of Mogill, who falls to 15-11 on the season.

Third baseman Kathy Range was the only bright spot for Eastern as she collected two of the team's four hits.

The second game went to 10 innings before Ball State won it with an RBI single which scored a runner from second base.

The Panthers threatened in the seventh with the score tied at 2-2. Lendvay tripled with one out, but was thrown out at home when she tried to score on a grounder to second base by senior Ellen Castleman.

Eastern scored in the first when Karcher tripled and scored on a double by Range.

The Cardinals tied the score at 1-1 in the fourth and took a 2-1 lead in the fifth before Eastern tied the score.

McCarthy singled, advanced to second on a sacrifice and scored after Karcher singled and intentionally got in a run-down between first and second to give McCarthy a chance to score from the third in the commotion.

Karcher, whose record fell to 5-6, pitched nine innings, and allowed 10 hits.

Eastern returns to action on Friday when it travels to Wichita State for a critical Gateway Conference doubleheader which could decide first place.

Three Panthers named top conference athletes

By BARRY BOTTINO
Sports editor

Three Eastern athletes walked away with their respective conference Athlete of the Week awards for performances during the week of April 19-26.

Junior Jim Maton captured the AMCU-8 Track Athlete of the Week award for his efforts at the Drake Relays in Des Moines, Iowa Saturday.

Maton qualified for the NCAA Outdoor Nationals with a 1:47.90 clocking in the 800-meter run, which is .20 of a second under the qualifying standard of 1:48.10.

The NCAA Nationals are scheduled for June 4-6 at Louisiana State University in Baton Rouge.

"It (the national meet) is something to look forward to,"

Maton said.

On the baseball diamond, Eastern centerfielder Mike Rooney took home his second straight AMCU-8 Baseball Athlete of the Week award with his 7-for-13 performance (.583) at the plate during a four-game sweep over Northern Iowa.

Rooney recorded three doubles and seven runs batted in against UNI and he now leads the Panthers with 44 RBIs in 42 games and is second on the team with 11 home runs.

In the Gateway Conference, senior thrower Valeta Strickland took GCAC Track and Field Athlete of the Week for her fourth place performance in the shot put at the Drake Relays in Des Moines, Iowa.

Bears from page 16

McMahon's shoulder have been encouraging and Bears Coach Mike Ditka gave no indication before the draft he had soured on Tomczak and Flutie.

Chicago also could use a wide receiver and two of the best prospects, Ricky Nattiel of Florida and Mark Ingram of Michigan State, still were available when the Bears chose 26th.

"We felt if we waited, he wouldn't be there on the second round," Ditka said of Harbaugh. "He is one of the players we wanted. We don't draft for the sake of the media or the fans. We do what is best for the Bears. We made the choice, we'll live with it."

Does that mean Ditka didn't feel he could live with his other young quarterbacks, Tomczak and Flutie?

"We'll see how the competition does," he said. "We've got five, we'll keep three."

Harbaugh sounded anything but intimidated by the crowded field.

"It will be a competitive atmosphere and the best players will be playing," he said.

Seitzer swinging away despite Bo's shadow

by DAN VERDUN
staff writer

Even though he's among the American League's leading hitters, don't mention the Rookie-of-the-Year award to Kevin Seitzer. He isn't about to listen.

"It's way too early in the season (to think about awards)," the Kansas City Royals infielder said in a telephone interview.

"I'd like to stay up here (in the majors) all year. I'd also like to hit 300. You just never know what could happen though."

Seitzer, the only player in Eastern history to hit over .400 in each season he played, has gotten away to a royal start with Kansas City this season. The 25-year-old's .388 average ranks second in league hitting behind New York Yankee's lead-off man Rickey Henderson, who is hitting .403.

"Things have been wild," Seitzer said. "Hits have been dropping. I'm staying relaxed at the plate and doing the things I've always done like going with the pitch and hitting the ball hard."

Despite his quick start, Seitzer has been overshadowed on numerous occasions by rookie teammate Bo Jackson, the former Heisman Trophy winner from Auburn.

Yet, that's just fine with Seitzer. Jackson can have all the media attention.

"Bo's a nice guy, I really like him," Seitzer said. "But while I can shower and leave after the game, Bo is there a couple of hours every day with them (media). It's just a pain. It's the same people asking the same questions every day."

Being hidden by Jackson's shadow has also allowed Seitzer to thrive this season.

Kevin Seitzer

"It's definitely benefited him," said Buddy Biancalana, Seitzer's Kansas City teammate and 1985 World Series surprise hero. "Anytime no one is expecting much from you it's much easier to sneak in and surprise everyone."

"Bo is a much bigger story, but Kevin is going to get his publicity if he keeps playing like he has."

While Seitzer's play may not always grab the media attention, the American League is taking note just the same. Seitzer has drawn praise from such notables as Don Mattingly and Sparky Anderson.

"He's one of the best young hitters I've seen in the organization," Biancalana said. "He's a perfect No. 2 hitter. He matches well with (lead-off man) Willie Wilson because he can go to right field well. If Willie steals second, Kevin will at least get him over to third."

Seitzer hasn't forgotten the people that helped him along the way. The Lincoln native credits his success to Eastern coach Tom "Skip" McDevitt.

"Everything I know about hitting I've learned from Skip," Seitzer said. "I owe everything to that man. Not only did he show me the fundamentals of a good swing, he was a great inspiration to me on and off the field."

Seitzer is earning the major league minimum salary of $62,500 this season. Should he continue to perform well a raise would be in order for next year.

"That's a heck of a lot more than I made working at Marty's," Seitzer joked.

Seitzer, who returned to Eastern to complete his industrial electronics degree last year, said he isn't worried about falling into a serious batting slump.

"I'll adjust to whatever the opposing pitchers try," Seitzer said. "Detroit tried throwing me inside and I adjusted and got a couple of hits. I'll just lay off what I don't like and wait for something in my zone."

Seitzer, who rooms with ex-Chicago Cub pitcher Dave Gumpert on the road, said that the Royals have "as good a shot of anyone" to win the American League West.

"But we've got to be more consistent with the bats. One game we score 10 runs and then we get shut out," Seitzer said. "I don't think the division will be locked up too early by any team."

And neither will the Rookie of the Year.

Indianapolis drafts Banks in 5th

By BARRY BOTTINO
Sports editor

Eastern's all-time reception leader Roy Banks became the first Panther player to be picked in the 1987 National Football League Draft Tuesday, after being chosen by the Indianapolis Colts as their second pick of the draft's fifth round.

At press time, quarterback Sean Payton, who passed for over 10,000 yards during his Eastern career, had not been drafted.

"I'm feeling great right now," said the draft's 114th overall selection. "I'm very excited to start my NFL career."

Banks will not have long to celebrate though, as the Colts mini-camp begins May 10.

"Basically I want to come in and establish myself. If I make the team, I just want to contribute," said Banks, who also plans to try his skills as a punt or kickoff returner.

Although the Colts started out 0-13 last season, Banks said that he doesn't mind being chosen by one of the league's lowliest teams.

"In my position, whoever would have drafted me, I would have been happy. I'm not saying I'm going to be an impact player, but with Cornelius Bennett (Alabama All-American linebacker and Indy's No. 1 pick) and some of their other draft picks, the Colts might be a contender a couple of years down the road," Banks said.

The 5-11, 190-pound senior from Detroit's King High School holds Eastern records in career receptions (184), receiving yards in a career (3,177) and career touchdown receptions (38).

Eastern wide receiver Roy Banks was chosen in the fifth round of Tuesday's NFL draft by the Indianapolis Colts.

Banks was also a member of the Gateway conference first team and the Kodak I-AA All-American first team.

The last Panther draftee was quarterback Jeff Christensen, who was chosen in the fifth round of the 1983 draft by the Cincinnati

Bengals.

Banks was also only one of five players to ever surpass the 3,000-yard reception mark in I-AA history, was ninth in I-AA receiving yardage in '86 (1,014 yards) and was tied for fifth place in I-AA schools for touchdown receptions last season (11).

Bears get Harbaugh

NEW YORK (AP)—The NFL draft became a quarterback auction Tuesday as teams seeking help at football's most critical position reached for question marks in hopes of pulling another Joe Montana or Dan Fouts out of the relatively thin talent pool.

Four quarterbacks were chosen in the first round, the most since the talent-laden 1983 draft.

Testaverde, the Heisman Trophy winner from Miami, signed a six-year, $8.2 million contract with the Tampa Bay Buccaneers earlier this month.

But Kelly Stouffer, Chris Miller and particularly Jim Harbaugh were surprises.

Stouffer, of Colorado State, was taken sixth overall by St. Louis, and Miller, of Oregon, went to Atlanta on the 13th pick. Meanwhile, the Chicago Bears added to their quarterback collection by choosing Harbaugh, of Michigan.

Harbaugh was the most surprising pick of all the QBs. The Bears' offense struggled without Jim McMahon, who was sidelined for much of the season with shoulder problems that eventually required surgery. Steve Fuller, Mike Tomczak and Doug Flutie could not match McMahon's production.

However, reports concerning (See page 14)

Panthers take 2 from St. Louis; extend streak to 6

By MIKE LYNCH
Staff writer

Eastern's baseball team extended its winning streak to six games Tuesday afternoon by taking both games of a doubleheader from St. Louis University by scores of 6-5 and 16-7.

The Billikens entered Tuesday's contest with a dismal 7-34 record, but the Panthers, 26-17-1, got all they could handle from the visitors in game one.

St. Louis jumped out to a quick 1-0 lead as Billiken third baseman Mark Panzeri greeted Panther starter Scott Nelson with a leadoff home run.

However, Nelson, making just his second start of the year, quickly settled down and pitched out of the first inning without further damage.

The Panthers tied the score in their half of the first inning as right fielder Shannon Coppel doubled and scored on third baseman Stan Royer's single.

Eastern took a 2-1 lead in the second inning as left fielder Dana Leibovitz singled. Leibovitz scored following a passed ball and a single by designated hitter Vic Lanzotti.

The Panthers pushed the margin to 4-1 in the third inning as center fielder Mike Rooney supplied a two-run, two-out, double that scored shortstop Tim Bogar and Royer.

Meanwhile, Nelson kept the Billikens' bats under wraps following the leadoff homer by Panzeri as the freshman lefthander allowed just two additional hits through the sixth inning.

"I felt great and it really helped my confidence," Nelson said. "I knew I was going to get good defense behind me, I just wanted to go out and keep us in the game."

However, in the sixth inning the Billikens seemed to solve any problems they were having with Nelson as they collected four runs to grab a 5-4 advantage.

Eastern struck back in its half of the sixth as a one-out home run by Rooney knotted the score at 5-5. It was the 11th round-tripper of the year for the senior and boosted his team-leading runs batted in total to 43.

Senior right-hander Jim Prims relieved Nelson to begin the seventh and retired the Billikens in order to set the stage for some Panther heroics in the seventh.

Second baseman Rick Steriotti led off the Eastern seventh with a single and promptly stole second. One out later, Bogar delivered the game winner—a single to left center on a 0-2 pitch.

"I told myself I wasn't going to let them get me out," Bogar said. "With the count 0-2, I was looking for an inside fastball and got it."

In the nightcap, righthanded freshman Steve Torricelli picked up his first collegiate victory as the Panthers took full advantage of their 13 hits and 15 walks.

The Panthers now turn their attention to a Wednesday double-header in Champaign with the University of Illinois.

Eastern is slated to send junior lefthander Eric Hillman, 4-3, in game one and freshman righthander Guy Taylor, 3-1, in the nightcap.

FRANK POLICH / Staff photographer

Panther second baseman Rick Steriotti lays down the tag on a St. Louis University player during Tuesday's double-header at Monier Field. Eastern swept St. Louis 6-5 in game 1 and 16-7 in game 2. The Panthers will try to extend their winning streak Wednesday in Champaign.
